BUILDING HOPE IN A BROKEN WORLD

At Te Whare Awhero all our counsellors adhere to the professional code of ethics of the ANZASW, NZAC, and or NZCCA. Confidentiality is also important to us and all our counsellors abide by and to the provision of the Privacy Act 1993. We have available both male and female fully qualified or counselling Interns. Our Interns are enrolled in a Bachelor of Counselling program with a recognised tertiary institution. The counselling provided by our counsellors is monitored by internal and external clinical supervision. Costs vary on a case by case basis, taking into account the situations and circumstances of those obtaining our services. Please contact us for more information.

What We Believe

Our vision at Te Whare Awhero is to positively influence and strengthen our community by offering a Counselling Service that embraces families and individuals, facing life's challenges. Our aim is to provide and promote a high quality level of interpersonal professional counselling.

We endeavor to take into account our responsibilities; including the safety and well-being of our clients whilst empowering them towards autonomy. As counsellor and advocate we can present a range of choices and opportunities for our clients. We encourage you to make positive changes orientated toward healing and wholeness.
